

Co-hosted by
Interdisciplinary Symposium on the World War II and its Long-term Effects in Japan &
Project 'Reconstruction Discourse of the A-bombed Cities under Allies Occupation' and Women
JSPS21KK0032 / JSPS22H00905

Gender and the representation of victimhood in the Liji Ally Museum in Nanjing

Dr. Eveline Buchheim

Senior Researcher, NIOD Institute for War,
Holocaust and Genocide Studies

Monday, 15 May 2023 16:30-18:00 JST

Hybrid - On site (Admission Free) and Webinar (Registration required)

Lecture Room 501, Bldg. A, 1-1-89, Higashi-Sendamachi,
Naka-ku, Hiroshima 730-0053 (Higashi-Senda Campus)
<https://www.hiroshima-u.ac.jp/en/access/sendai>

Dr. Buchheim's research interest lies at the intersection of language and human interaction. She is the coordinator of 'Getuigen & Tijdgenoten' ('Witnesses & Contemporaries'), part of the research programme 'Onafhankelijkheid, dekolonisatie, geweld en oorlog in Indonesië 1945-1950' ('Independence, Decolonisation, Violence and War in Indonesia 1945-1950'). She leads the 'Inrichtingen onder druk' ('Institutions under Pressure') project to investigate the consequences of the German occupation for patients in psychiatric institutions and institutions for the mentally challenged.

QR code for Webinar
Registration

Contact: Luli van der Does (PhD), Associate Professor, CPHU
lulidoes@hiroshima-u.ac.jp / +81-82-542-6975